Centres needed to deliver Work With Parents Qualifications in England

LLUK is supporting Parenting UK, Parenting Forum NI and City & Guilds in the QCA Test and Trials: Phase 2 in delivering the newly created units of assessment and qualifications devised for the Work With Parents sector.

Number of Learners

It has been identified that this project will benefit:

650 learners in England

100 learners in Northern Ireland

50 learners in Wales

About the units of assessment and qualifications

LLUK is the sector Skills Council responsible for those who work within the Work With Parents sector. LLUK are guardians of the Work With Parents NOS from which these qualifications have been developed.

Fforwm Magu Plant (Parenting Forum of Children in Wales) is also supporting this project, particularly those learners in Wales.

These units of assessment and qualifications will deliver the essential skills and knowledge for those workers who work with parents in both a paid and voluntary capacity. Workers will build their knowledge and understanding of:

Underpinning principles and values

- The development needs of parents and children
- The child-parent relationship influences and needs
- Building relationships and partnerships with parents, colleagues and agencies
- Providing safe and inclusive environments
- Supporting parents in accessing services
- Communicating effectively
- Continual Professional Development
- Developing training sessions

Learners will be able to take units that build into:

Level 2 Award

Level 2 Certificate

Level 3 Award

Level 3 Certificate

How you can get involved

We have already identified centres in Wales and Northern Ireland but we are still recruiting centres based in England who would like to take part in this project.

Skills for Learning Professionals

Centres need to meet the following criteria to take part in the project:

- Based in England
- City & Guilds Awarding Body centre approved
- Hold existing LSC contracts
- Ability to deliver Level 2 and Level 3 units
- Have staff expertise in the area of Work With Parents (training manual and materials to support this project are available from Parenting UK)

If you are interested in taking part and would like further information, please contact Jenni Rolls at City & Guilds at: jenni.rolls@cityandguilds.com
